Connect to Wifi: Your new modem/gateway has built-in Wifi to get you up and running quickly. Your new network name and password are written on the back of the gateway for convenience. If you want to change the default Wifi network name or password, we have instructions online to make these changes yourself or you can contact us online and we can walk you through it.

Using your own Wifi router: If you already have your own wireless router, you can connect it to any yellow jack on the back of the gateway. We then recommend disabling wifi in the gateway to avoid interference. We have instructions online to disable wifi, or you can contact us online and we can do it for you.

AT&T Smart Home app: The AT&T Smart Home app does not work with IgLou service; it is only needed for AT&T customers. There is no need to register your service, your service should be active immediately after installation. Advanced users can access the gateway's configuration control panel to make any desired changes.

Whole-home Wifi: IgLou recommends whole-home mesh wifi routers for the best wireless signal throughout your home or office. Specifically we recommend Eero brand mesh wifi for ease of setup
